About the Principles for Responsible Management Education (PRME)

The Principles for Responsible Management Education (PRME) is a United Nations-supported initiative founded in 2007 that aims to raise the profile of sustainability in their classrooms through Seven Principles focused on serving society and safeguarding our planet.

PRME engages business and management schools to ensure they provide future leaders with the skills needed to balance economic and sustainability goals, while drawing attention to the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) and aligning academic institutions with the work of the UN Global Compact. Driven by its mission to transform management education, PRME equips today's business students with the understanding and ability to deliver change tomorrow. As a voluntary initiative with over 800 signatories worldwide, PRME has become the largest organized relationship between the United Nations and management-related higher education institutions.

“ The PRME initiative was launched to nurture responsible leaders of the future. Never has this task been more important. Bold leadership and innovative thinking are needed to achieve the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). **”

Antonio Guterres

Secretary-General (2017 - Present)

The Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs)

In September 2015, all 193 Member States of the United Nations adopted a plan for achieving a better future for all – laying out a path over the next 15 years to end extreme poverty, fight inequality and injustice, and protect our planet. At the heart of Agenda 2030 are 17 Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) and 169 related targets that address the most important economic, social, environmental and governance challenges of our time. The SDGs clearly define the world we want – applying to all nations and leaving no one behind. Successful implementation of the SDGs will require all players to champion this agenda; the role of higher education is critical to this.

Partnerships

The following provides more details on 2 key partnerships at Porto Business School.

Porto Business School Announced PBS Board Fellows Initiative

Porto Business School announced the launch of PBS Board Fellows, an initiative that offers its MBA students the opportunity to join the management bodies of non-profit organizations for six months. The initiative aims to bridge the gap between academia and the social sector, promote civic engagement among students, and contribute to community well-being, reinforcing Porto Business School's commitment to social responsibility and corporate citizenship. Students will gain a greater understanding the role of business leaders on the boards of non-profit organizations to promote effective cross-sector collaboration. Simultaneously, non-profit organizations will benefit from new ideas and innovative perspectives.

José Esteves, Dean of Porto Business School, states: "The PBS Board Fellows initiative offers a unique opportunity for our MBA students and business leaders to gain board-level decision-making experience, mentorship, and project experience, thereby strengthening their leadership skills and contributing to a more resilient and inclusive community ecosystem."

PBS Board Fellows is a collaboration between the Portugal-based business school and non-profit organizations, such as Red Cross, Palhaços d'Opital and Encontrar+se.

Junior Achievement Portugal

JAP and Porto Business School come together in a partnership grounded in a shared vision of the future, innovation, and positive impact. Together, they combine academic knowledge, business expertise, and a strong commitment to the community, creating opportunities that empower people, strengthen organizations, and contribute to sustainable development. This partnership reflects the belief that collaboration is the driving force behind transformation and that, together, it is possible to create lasting value for society.

Testimonial

Volunteering with Junior Achievement Portugal

"Volunteering in the 'A Família' program by Junior Achievement Portugal was a deeply enriching and inspiring experience. Working with first-grade students gave me a close-up view of how powerful education can be from an early age, especially when it's delivered in a hands-on and engaging way."
