About the Principles for Responsible Management Education (PRME)

The Principles for Responsible Management Education (PRME) is a United Nations-supported initiative founded in 2007 that aims to raise the profile of sustainability in their classrooms through Seven Principles focused on serving society and safeguarding our planet.

PRME engages business and management schools to ensure they provide future leaders with the skills needed to balance economic and sustainability goals, while drawing attention to the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) and aligning academic institutions with the work of the UN Global Compact. Driven by its mission to transform management education, PRME equips today's business students with the understanding and ability to deliver change tomorrow. As a voluntary initiative with over 800 signatories worldwide, PRME has become the largest organized relationship between the United Nations and management-related higher education institutions.

“The PRME initiative was launched to nurture responsible leaders of the future. Never has this task been more important. Bold leadership and innovative thinking are needed to achieve the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs).

Antonio Guterres

Secretary-General (2017 - Present)

We place organizational responsibility and accountability to society and the planet at the core of what we do.

Teach

We transform our learning environments by integrating responsible management concepts and practices into our curriculum and pedagogy.

Research

We study people, organizations, institutions, and the state of the world to inspire responsible management and education practice.

Partner

We engage people from business, government, civil society, and academia to advance responsible and accountable management education and practice.

Practice

We adopt responsible and accountable management principles in our own governance and operations.

Share

We share our successes and failures with each other to enable our collective learning and best live our common values and purpose.

The Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs)

In September 2015, all 193 Member States of the United Nations adopted a plan for achieving a better future for all – laying out a path over the next 15 years to end extreme poverty, fight inequality and injustice, and protect our planet. At the heart of Agenda 2030 are 17 Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) and 169 related targets that address the most important economic, social, environmental and governance challenges of our time. The SDGs clearly define the world we want – applying to all nations and leaving no one behind. Successful implementation of the SDGs will require all players to champion this agenda; the role of higher education is critical to this.

Mission

Hult International Business School Statement of Purpose

Why we exist: We exist to create a better future for all by inspiring and challenging our community to make an impact that matters.

How we do it:

We learn through challenge. We learn to do and do to learn, individually and in teams. Through our highly relevant programs, passionate teaching, and focus on applied learning, we build the knowledge and skills that employers want, and entrepreneurs need to thrive in today's workplace. We not only increase the practical ability of our community, but also their confidence, learning agility, and employability.

We are Global. Our community of 'doers' represents over 150 nationalities and our campuses, learners, alumni, faculty and staff celebrate togetherness across the globe. We create a truly diverse environment where we all learn from and are enriched by each other's experiences and perspectives.

We Grow Ourselves and Others. Our community of lifelong learners embodies curiosity, optimism and a growth mindset that enables us all to become our best selves. We care beyond ourselves and believe that by continually striving for integrity, equity and authenticity, our community can help build a better world for all.

What we do: We offer innovative education and foster research to advance practice within responsible, inclusive and sustainable business.

Letter of Commitment

30 September 2025

Hult's commitment to the UN Principles for Responsible Management Education

At Hult International Business School, we exist to create a better future for all by inspiring and challenging our community to make an impact that matters.

Since our founding, we have made ethics and responsible business practices core to our curriculum, and encouraged the experiential learning that enables our students to advance practice within responsible, inclusive and sustainable business. We strive to bring the highest quality, most relevant and global management education and research to the world: education and research that enables our students to make their best contribution, enabling both them and their organizations to thrive as integral parts of a much larger whole.

These aspirations come to life through what we teach in our curriculum, our innovative experiential pedagogy, our faculty who teach and facilitate learning, the diversity of the students we recruit into our programs, the research our faculty undertake, how we manage our campuses, and how we engage students around the world through initiatives such as the Hult Prize, all underpinned by our commitment to the Principles of Responsible Management Education, the United National Global Compact and the UN Sustainable Development Goals.

We take this mission very seriously. The time has never been more right for creating leaders of integrity and purpose, equipped with the knowledge and skills to lead action on the UN Sustainable Development Goals. You can read more about our commitment and efforts in the pages that follow.
