About the Principles for Responsible Management Education (PRME)

The Principles for Responsible Management Education (PRME) is a United Nations-supported initiative founded in 2007 that aims to raise the profile of sustainability in their classrooms through Seven Principles focused on serving society and safeguarding our planet. PRME engages business and management schools to ensure they provide future leaders with the skills needed to balance economic and sustainability goals, while drawing attention to the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) and aligning academic institutions with the work of the UN Global Compact. Driven by its mission to transform management education, PRME equips today's business students with the understanding and ability to deliver change tomorrow. As a voluntary initiative with over 800 signatories worldwide, PRME has become the largest organized relationship between the United Nations and management-related higher education institutions.

“ The PRME initiative was launched to nurture responsible leaders of the future. Never has this task been more important. Bold leadership and innovative thinking are needed to achieve the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). ”

Antonio Guterres

Secretary-General (2017 - Present)
United Nations

The Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs)

In September 2015, all 193 Member States of the United Nations adopted a plan for achieving a better future for all – laying out a path over the next 15 years to end extreme poverty, fight inequality and injustice, and protect our planet. At the heart of "Agenda 2030" are 17 Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) and 169 related targets that address the most important economic, social, environmental and governance challenges of our time. The SDGs clearly define the world we want – applying to all nations and leaving no one behind. Successful implementation of the SDGs will require all players to champion this agenda; the role of higher education is critical to this.

Describe the research project

The 2024 Marine Litter Monitoring Survey, aiming to reduce marine pollution in Manila Bay. The survey, conducted in 2024, covered 10 project sites in Cavite, Bataan, and the National Capital Region (NCR). The survey is part of the Enhancing Marine Litter Management (EMLM) program (2021-2025), funded by the Korea International Cooperation Agency (KOICA) and the Korea Marine Environment Management Corporation, through Our Sea of East Asia Network (OSEAN).

The report was shared at a conference in Quezon City by DLSU-D researchers Dr. Johnny Ching and Dr. Michael Guyamin. It revealed a 42% decrease in marine litter between 2023 and 2024. However, plastics remain the dominant debris, accounting for 91% of the waste. Seasonal data also showed a 16% increase in waste collection during wet months compared to the dry season.

The report urges stronger enforcement of environmental laws like RA 9003 (Ecological Solid Waste Management Act) and RA 9275 (Clean Water Act). It also recommends expanding awareness campaigns in barangays, standardizing cleanup methods, and developing a comprehensive marine litter management plan for Manila Bay that involves both government and community efforts.
