About the Principles for Responsible Management Education (PRME)

The Principles for Responsible Management Education (PRME) is a United Nations-supported initiative founded in 2007 that aims to raise the profile of sustainability in their classrooms through Seven Principles focused on serving society and safeguarding our planet.

PRME engages business and management schools to ensure they provide future leaders with the skills needed to balance economic and sustainability goals, while drawing attention to the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) and aligning academic institutions with the work of the UN Global Compact. Driven by its mission to transform management education, PRME equips today's business students with the understanding and ability to deliver change tomorrow. As a voluntary initiative with over 800 signatories worldwide, PRME has become the largest organized relationship between the United Nations and management-related higher education institutions.

“ The PRME initiative was launched to nurture responsible leaders of the future. Never has this task been more important. Bold leadership and innovative thinking are needed to achieve the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs).

The Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs)

In September 2015, all 193 Member States of the United Nations adopted a plan for achieving a better future for all – laying out a path over the next 15 years to end extreme poverty, fight inequality and injustice, and protect our planet. At the heart of Agenda 2030 are 17 Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) and 169 related targets that address the most important economic, social, environmental and governance challenges of our time. The SDGs clearly define the world we want – applying to all nations and leaving no one behind. Successful implementation of the SDGs will require all players to champion this agenda; the role of higher education is critical to this.

Values

We place organizational responsibility and accountability to society and the planet at the core of what we do.

Institutional Aspiration Targets

Lomonosov Moscow State University Business School has set aspiration targets in 1 different area:

- ❖ In relation to water consumption, we do not set any specific target on minimizing it, however we carefully monitor the amount of water consumption per month in order not to exceed the limit per year. The quantity of parking places near MSUBS is limited which stimulates staff, student and faculty to use public transportation. The current policy of the Moscow Government is aimed at making the city's public transport as accessible and fast as possible for all citizens. In the last decade, very good results of this policy have been achieved: a significant part of the Moscow bus fleet consists of electric buses, public transport almost everywhere has its own lane, where it has an absolute priority. Also all students of Lomonosov MSU are encouraged (by existing infrastructure) and stimulated (by comfortable conditions) to use bicycles inside MSU Campus and in Moscow during Summer seasons.
